

Frankenstein

All parts marked in Score

MVT I - OBSESSION

28 March 1817, While searching for a Northwest Passage through the Polar regions, Our ship came upon a man near death. Upon his retrieval, he shared with us a tale both terrifying and tragic. I have taken measures to document his final testament and my encounter with the being he pursued.

Curiosity and a desire to learn the hidden laws of nature are among the earliest sensations I can remember. I, Viktor Frankenstein will pioneer a new way, explore unknown powers and unfold to the world the deepest mysteries of CREATION.

This is my obsession!

ALIVE!

MVT II – TO GAZE UPON THE CREATOR

As the creature looked up in longing and hope, the beauty of the dream vanished and breathless horror filled FRANKENSTEIN'S heart.

“There is love in me the likes of which you have never seen. THERE IS RAGE IN ME the likes of which should never escape. If I am not satisfied with one, I will indulge the other.”

MVT III – RAGE

“I will avenge my injuries” said the creature. “If I can not inspire love, I will cause fear and pain toward you my archenemy, MY CREATOR!”

I only encountered the aberration once, but still recall his haunting words as he hovered over the Doctor's lifeless body.

“I have suffered with you Viktor, yet I forgive you. You made evil our version of good. I will live out my days in the frozen lands of the North until I die. It is the only consolation I have left to relieve the pain I have endured since the spark of life was given to me.”

I asked the creature “Why do you weep for this man?”

“He was my father.” said the creature.

“Curiosity and a desire to learn the hidden laws of nature are among the earliest sensations I can remember.”

“I AM Viktor Frankenstein, and this was my obsession.”